SEATTLE'S EX-MAYOR SPEAKS

than industry can pay and feeling their power, are demanding that the government surrender some of its prerogatives to them. Unless the "Red" misleaders of labor take care, the people in their resentment will drive the pendulum up to the other extreme and bring misery to countless thousands.

Before we entered the war, our bins were full, our warehouses were overflowing and we were able to ship a great surplus of our products to all parts of the world. Today, even with the high prices, our production is being restricted, our demand is ever increasing and we find our bins and warehouses empty.

What has brought this condition about?

In the first place, our immigration materially decreased during the years of the war. Let us estimate that 15,000,000 workers lost their lives or were crippled or incapacitated for work in the war. It takes at least eighteen years to raise a man and over twenty years to bring him into being and train a skilled workman. Add to this the fact that in the war countries, the best brains and leadership of industry died on the field of battle, or of sickness, and the seriousness of the situation is realized.

Europe cannot produce what she needs, even if all who were able to work; but they in Europe will not work, do not work, are not working. Many are striking, looting, shirking, quarreling, fighting and when they do work, eight hours, only do four, or at most, six hours of work.

Our country is in better shape, but if our present unrest and the practice of restricted production continues we will soon join the merry chorus, and want and poverty will come at home. There seems to be a false theory prevalent throughout our land. People seem to think that the less they do, the more they will have. Of course the greater the production the more there is to divide. Looting never came from a bush of corn or made a chair or fed a hog, or produced anything, anywhere, anytime. We must produce more—not less—in order to have more. The division of the product may be a just subject for dispute, but the necessity for more production cannot be disputed.

Are the Workers Loafing?

You ask me, "Are the workers loafing?" No, not all are loafing—many are still doing a fair day's work for a fair day's pay, but the teaching of sabotage in the tons of "Red" literature being circulated, has infected the minds of hundreds of thousands. Sabotage is simply anything that will destroy, whether it be burning a mill, driving spikes in logs in our woods, putting emery dust in machinery, or slowing up production by loafing on the job. The Bolsheviks, syndicalists or "Reds" teach all those methods, because they are against a wage system of any kind. They believe they should control, own and manage all things. They fanatically believe that by practicing sabotage, they can destroy industry and then it will fall like a ripe apple into their hands.

One of the greatest mistakes made by surface thinkers is that wealth is a static thing; that it is only the distribution thereof that is wrong and that property divided we would all live in luxury and wealth. So believing the "Reds" better promote the doctrine of "as little work for as much pay as possible," magnify the "honest" profit and engender hatred and antagonism.

Russia's Equal Pay Dream.

In Russia, Lenin and Trotsky et al tried to materialize the equal pay dream. All men were to receive the same stipend, no matter what they did. In just a little while, Lenin found it did not work and could not work. He said in his "Soviets at Work" that it was necessary to pay the leaders in industrial life, $5,000 to 100,000 rubles per year. He has also found it necessary, under the soviet rule that government must work where the government wants them to work; that hours are fixed by the government; that working conditions are fixed by the government; that when workers strike, they are arrested by the government and that no workman can change his job or quit his job, without governmental sanction.

Just imagine telling the workmen of the United States that they can neither choose their jobs, nor quit their jobs. There would be trouble in fifteen minutes. Yet, in this country, where we are a free and self-governing people, the "Reds" have converted thousands to Bolshevism because of the falsehood told and because the truth has not been printed in all languages in regard to Russia and Russian conditions. I find "Red" books everywhere in every language, but who ever translated an argument for our government into Finnish or Polish? It is time the pamphleteers on our side got busy. The false arguments which aim at the overthrow of society, as at present organized, are printed in every language. Plain ignorance is the reason for support of Bolshevism, Education and train the American, as well as the alien, and but few "Reds" will remain.

Mentioning briefly the French Bolsheviks of 1919 and then the Russian Bolsheviks, Mr. Hanson showed how Kerenky met these Russians who would overthrow the government of the people's choice and apparently did not know that there could be no compromise meeting ground with anarchy. Kerenky talked, wrote notes, held conference after conference and made surrender after surrender and did everything else but use the only weapon anarchists understand, which is force, and plenty of it. He treated them with kindness and conciliation; he started conferences instead of cemeteries, and insisting to shed blood, it led to the day when his hesitation has caused the murder of innocent thousands.

If the same red blood had coursed through the body of Kerenky, he would have been a Bolshevik in Russia today. With sickly sentimentality as his watchword and vague speeches for his aid, Kerenky saw a small, militant band of adolescent intellectuals seize control of a government which he had not the courage to protect the Seattle strike.

Giving a description of the attempted general strike last February at Seattle, made possible by I. W. W. infiltration into labor unions and having as its aim the overthrow of the government of the United States, Mr. Hanson declared that either the conservative constructive forces of labor must so conduct its affairs that all fair-minded men will take charge and lead it to destruction. The recent steel strike, he said, was plotted at the same time and by the same people who plotted the Seattle strike.

Restrict Immigration.

Advocating restriction of immigration, the speaker said that he believed the irreconcilable alien, agitator Bolshevik or anarchist should not be allowed to remain in the United States one hour longer than is necessary to go through the proper legal forms to send him back to the land from which he came. He is an ever-increasing danger, is no good to himself or anyone else, is a trouble breeder, a teacher of falsehood and sedition and must and shall be sent out of this land of the free.

Approximately 5000 persons were arrested by the department of justice this year and of this number, 52 were actually ordered deported by the department.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Pilsa Bitter-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being devised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing the loss of hair and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is made in a pure and safe form by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, carelessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should soon disappear. Full eyes brighter and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION:—While Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

partment of labor and only 57 of the 12 were compelled to leave the country, and now comes the alarming statement on good authority that Red propagandists at the rate of one hundred a day are being smuggled into the United States.

The American people want no further trifling with these men. If there are not sufficient laws to quickly and inexpensively deport these people, congress should enact the same at once, and any president who would veto such a necessary and just measure would and should be impeached. If our present authorities in Washington do not see fit to carry out the wish of an aroused American people in this respect, then I say to you that the people will elect other representatives who will act and act at once in ridding the country of this scum.

They are easily handled and no further comment is necessary. Let them either be Americans or go back home. Let us select our future citizens. We cannot afford to stop immigration. We need it. We are five million short on immigration in the last five years. We should guard our immigration carefully. Selection is the logical outcome. I am advocating a five-year probationary period in which the alien's movements will be under the constant supervision of federal officials and in which he must advance satisfactorily in Americanism and education or also return whence he came. Distribution is an important selection. Let the newcomers be sent where they are needed, to the cotton belt, the wheat belt or wherever they are needed, instead of crowding the hundreds of thousands into New York and part of the distribution would be to see that no foreign colonies are built up in this land. In this system, I am advocating years ago—to start Americanism with the first generation and not with the children. We must teach the ignorant aliens. That is all that is necessary. The people are all right—they only need to be taught. I am not talking about the anarchist or his kind, because you can do nothing with him, only don't let him in.

Ignorant Americans.

While the alien has given us a great deal of trouble, he is not the only trouble maker in our country. The American born who does not understand the principles of our government, the American who is ignorant of the rights and duties of citizenship, the American in trying to destroy our nation, and in my best judgment, a good deal of this unrest has been our own fault. We have, in the main, neglected the Americanization of Americans. The laws for the compulsory education of children should and must be rigidly enforced. The most ignorant work of man is an uneducated mind. The lack of proper preparation in youth not only injures the child, but weakens our whole national fabric. Americanism should be a regular course in all schools just the same as arithmetic and grammar and I think it is as important to have a department of education established and its head given a position in the president's cabinet as it is to have an agricultural or war department. I would rather my children understand the history and ideals of our country than to learn Latin or Greek. I contend that no unbiased, unprejudiced person can sincerely advocate the overthrow of this government if he understands just what kind of a government it is.

The ex-mayor from Seattle went on to discuss the pay of school teachers, which was much too small, considering the importance of their work. In 1918 the average daily wage of the American teacher was $1.48; in 1919 it was $1.52. Teachers and pay them so well, said Mr. Hanson, that they can come to the work singing "My Country 'Tis of Thee, Sweet Land of Liberty," but they cannot do this on $1.55 a day.

Conscientious Objectors.

There is one other point I want to make, he concluded, and that is that when war was declared, quite a number of people from every section of the land entered their objections to going to war and fighting to preserve our American ideals—to fight in defense of our country. Some of them were classified as "conscientious objectors" were imprisoned during the duration of the war, because they would not join with the others who went on to make the fight.

When the war was over and the boys returned from overseas, they were given their "honorable discharges" which means they had performed a useful and patriotic service in defense of the government. I now find that many of these same "conscientious objectors" who were interned because they would not go out and fight, have been released from internment and given a discharge which is not dishonorable. I want to say that it is an outrage and an insult to the American public and I for one want to register my strongest protest. There should be such a protest sent to Washington, that the secretary of war will at once, cause the revocation of these discharges, and see that in their place is given one with the only mark that could be given, with the word "Dishonorable" written plainly across the top thereof. Send in your protest to your congressman and senator and demand that these evidences of patriotic service be taken from these men.

EMMA GOLDMAN'S APPEAL HAS BEEN WITHDRAWN

New York, Dec. 17.—Harry Weinberger, counsel for Emma Goldman, who announced that she would waive her legal rights to ask appeal from the deportation order on which she is to be sent back to Russia with Alexander Berkman, her companion of years, and some 80 other Russian radicals, today forwarded to Attorney General Palmer formal notice of her action.

Mr. Palmer, in a telegram received today by Mr. Weinberger, stated that the formal notice was "necessary," and if it was forwarded and direct to the department of justice it would be presented to the supreme court, which had been petitioned for Miss Goldman for a "writ of error or appeal" from the order issued for her deportation.

Miss Goldman, in a statement made public by her counsel, declared she now expects the United States government to "keep its promise" and deport her "within the ten days" limit of which she said, "will be up Saturday." She added that among several things she expected to do in Soviet Russia would be organization of a "Russian Friends of American Freedom" along lines similar to those of the "American Friends of Russian Freedom." In 1905 which aroused sentiment against the "tyrannies of the czar."
